

DISCOVER THE MPSP NETWORK:

The Max Planck School of Photonics is not a single school, but a network of world-famous universities and non-university research institutions throughout Germany. During the study phase, MPSP candidates undergo a full-time master's program at three internationally recognized universities (FSU Jena, FAU Erlangen & KIT). In our Ph.D. program, you are spoilt for choice between 19 research institutions.

The Max Planck School of Photonics is a joint project of German universities and non-university research institutes. It is coordinated and funded by:
